

CHINA ON VERGE OF OPEN WARFARE

SPARK IGNITING ENTIRE NATION IN WAR IS SEEN

Chi Shien Yuan, Aggressor Marshalling Forces in Campaign to Drive Out His Rival Lu Yung-Hsiang,
Present Ruler of Protested Province.

(By The Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—The spark igniting all China in open warfare
was seen today in the impending conflict in the eastern portions of Kiangsu
province in which Chi Shien Yuan
the aggressor, expects to drive out his rival, Lu Yung-Hsiang, Tsuchun of Chekiang province, who has ruled the contested section of Kiangsu province
since his appointment under the deposed Anfu party.

Lu retained his power after the overthrow of the Anfu party in 1919. The pro-Japanese party in China in 1919.
General Wu Pei-Fu, who has ruled
as a military power in China since he defeated the armies of Marshal
Chang Tso-Lin, war lord of Manchuria
in 1922, has ordered his troops
from Chekiang province, where Peking
is located, to the aid of Chi Shien-Yuan. It is believed that any weakening of General Wu's Chihli position would furnish Chang Tso-Lin an awarded opportunity to move southward again against Peking, an expedition for which he has been preparing since his defeat two years ago.

Another factor in the marshalling
of forces in this region is Sun Yat-sen, president of the southern government of China, who, although his armies have been weakened by long
continued local conflicts in the vicinity of Canton, is regarded as a supporter of Lu Yung-Hsiang.

An inspection of the Kuangtung section, whose inhabitants fled to the refugees from the war zone reveals preparations for fighting on a huge scale.

Twenty-five thousand troops already have been centered in Kuangtung,
including artillery and machine gun divisions and fighting is expected to break out momentarily as the opposing forces are within five miles
of each other.

General Ho Fen-Ling, military governor of the Shanghai-Sunkeung district, today estimated that 20,000 additional troops scattered over
points between Woussung and Shanghai up to Nanking where the opposing forces are expected to clash also.

Many of General Wu-Pei-Fu's Chihli troops have been sent from Paoing Fu to join with the forces of Chi Shieh-Yuan at Nanking while 30,000 troops in addition to those in the Wu zone are being sent from Chihli province.

The immediate basis for the conflict is contained in charges by Chi Shieh-Yuan that his rival Lu Yung-Hsiang violated a peace treaty signed by the Kiangsu and Chekiang governments by harboring and accept ship
two military leaders lately expelled
by the northern forces, which Chi is aligned.

Urge La Follette To Follow Wheeler In New England

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, is being urged by some of his advisers to follow Senator Wheeler to New England for a least one campaign speech.

Mr. Wheeler will begin a stump-ing tour today with an address on Boston common. In quick succession
he will deliver speeches in at least three other New England cities
before invading New York and probably eastern states.

PRINCE OF WALES HAS REACHED N. Y. HARBOR

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Prince of Wales arrived on the liner Berengaria at quarantine,
lower New York harbor, at 2:17
o'clock this afternoon.

(By The Associated Press)
S. S. BERENGARIA, Aug. 29.—
Due to arrive at New York this afternoon on his second visit to the United States, en route to his chateau in Canada, the Prince of Wales spent
the morning in final preparations for departing.

Last night he took a little time off
and danced to phonograph music in a quiet corner outside the royal suite
with Lady Mountbatten and Mrs.
Richard Norton of his party. There were several other guests but no one ventured near.

Earlier in the evening the prince took time to receive a deputation of brother Masons, representing all the members of the order aboard ship.
The deputation, which included the senior grand warden of the united grand lodge and as provincial grand master of Surrey.

His royal highness responded cordially and delighted two of the members of the order aboard ship. The

GREET "DOWN-HOMERS" VARIOUS BILLS ARE ADOPTED BY THE REICHSTAG

MENINGITIS TAKES A HEAVY TOLL IN JAPAN
(By The Associated Press)
TOKIO, August 29.—Total
deaths from an epidemic of meningitis now sweeping Japan
reached 1,774,000 when the fatalities were listed at Kobe and one at Yokohama. In the past 24 hours, 876 deaths from the disease have been reported,
principally from Shikoku state.

CONDEMNATION FIGHT MAY BE A LASTING ONE

Schoolboard Considering
Two Or Three Sits For Junior High School

In the absence of Dr. I. C. Harrison, chairman of the city schoolboard,
no further step towards securing a site for one of the new city schools
to be built under the $350,000 bond issue will be taken, it was learned today.

The schoolboard is for the time
being hamstrung by the legal development in the bond issues, the granting of a temporary injunction which City Attorney A. M. Allen is preparing to combat. At the same time, so confident is the board that the injunction will be dissolved and
the affirmative mandate of the people
eventually carried out, it is still actively at work on the major building program.

T. S. Williamson, a member of the board was questioned this morning regarding schoolboard plans. He has been generally understood that the new junior high school would be relocated in the immediate proximity of Rison Park school. Mr. Williamson is opposed to this plan and a difference of opinion in the board indicates the likelihood of a split which will necessitate a session of plans in this particular. Objections which Mr. Williamson cited this morning included the fact that with 720 children at Rison Park already and with more than that number assigned to the proposed building the recess
hours would result in such a jam
that there could be no adequate healthful playground space. Mr. Williamson said "They will never build another school near Rison Park with my consent."

Asked concerning the report that the board might take action to bring about condemnation of the old Ficklen home site—one of the most valuable pieces of property in Danville
on West Main street opposite the Ficklen home, Mr. Williamson said that this is not a definite considered but that no definite
course of action has been agreed upon. The board however, has been urged to follow such a course, he said.

Two or more other sites in the west end section are also being considered in the light of condemnation proceedings. Mr. Williamson was questioned in discussing the Ficklen site
emphatically that the board is not actually in any way by Mr. Ficklen's recent combative measures on the bond issues and that the board in considering the site is not at all influenced by the combative measures
of the site, and its location and size
by any means as a counter-offensive against the principal figure in the injunction proceedings.

It develops that the board has not yet actually discussed with Mr. Ficklen the purchase of the Ficklen property. However, a letter is on file in the office of Superintendent W. C. Griggs in which Mr. Ficklen is quoted by Mr. Williamson as saying that under no "circumstances" would he consider parting with the property for school purposes. This letter was understood to have been written to Mr. Griggs as result of a remark credited to Superintendent Griggs about condemnation proceedings.

Pressed for the location of other sites Mr. Williamson felt it improper to disclose them just at this time.
A condemnation proceeding would be a law suit. The schoolboard would appear before the judge of the condemnation and file with it a petition
setting forth reasons why the property sought should be condemned. If the court considered the request a worthy one it would appoint commissioners and set a fair market value
for the property. This appraisal would be confirmed by the court. If it did so, the owner of the property
could appeal to the supreme court
on no question of fact as much as
on the possibility of a reversal on purely legal grounds. A long legal battle over the issue, might ensue
it is said.

The board has not yet decided the school architectural expert to be associated with Heard and Chesterton
who are to draw the plans for the proposed new school.

a dozen of the survivors of Quantrill's band of civil war fame will hold their twenty-seventh annual reunion here

BIG RECEPTION GIVEN PARTY OF 72 N. C. FARMERS

City Officials Greet Motor-cade Returning From Tour of Three States

"Welcome Down-Homer; Danville
Greets You"
This was the spirit in which Danville city officials and the Chamber of Commerce today met 72 farmers from Rowan, Davie and Cabarrus counties,
who spent about three hours in this city en route to Mocksville, N. C., where on Monday, August 18th they started for an extensive tour through North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland
and District of Columbia.

The party was traveling in a motor-cade, or rather a Fordcade, and on reaching Danville it was estimated that they had reeled off about 1,200 miles since starting. There are 14 cars in the party and one truck which carries spares and mechanics to give relief to those of the party experiencing mechanical trouble. The members of the expedition expressed warm
gratitude for the reception they received, not only in Danville, but at every point so far touched. George Evans, farm demonstration agent of Davie county, stated this morning that the trip had been highly beneficial
and instructive since it had afforded
the opportunity of seeing progressive farming methods at several famous plantations and had resulted in their getting a very good idea of what the condition of the crops are over a large area.

Three cars carrying the Danville
welcoming delegation set out early this morning on the Chatham road to meet the visitors. Two motor cycle officers went as far as Chatham where the motorcade started, to meet the party and to pilot them into Danville.
The welcoming delegation were Mayor
Wooding, James T. Catlin, Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce,
E. R. Bell, W. E. Meade, A. A. Booth
and D. E. Graham, Jr. On arrival
the cars were parked in front of the Burton hotel and the visitors
escorted to the dining room where breakfast was served as a courtesy
by C. G. Holland and Herbert Henkel,
members of the committee on relations between county and city.

After the repeat Mayor Wooding,
Mr. Booth, Mr. Meade and Mr. Catlin
expressed warm welcome to the visitors, in which the vital necessity
of a perfect accord being the people of the country and the people of the cities was stressed. W. G. Yeager, farm demonstration agent of Rowan county, leader of the expedition remained thanks and did County Agent
Elliott, who was in the motorcade
fast the party visited Purdum's farm and at about 11 o'clock started for home—Mocksville, a distance of 110 miles. Only two cars of the original expedition failed to make the entire trip. One of these was occupied by R. D. Goodman, agent of Cabarrus county, who was suddenly called home.

County Agent Evans of Davie in speaking with a reporter for The Bee
this morning gave a good impression
of the roads in Virginia.
While the highways have been found to be dusty, the party he said, was greatly surprised by the good state of the roads. They were he said, no half as bad as many of them had been led to believe.

Summarizing the places visited since the party left Mocksville Mr. Evans said that their first stop was at Millsboro, where they were met by Mr. A. J. R. From here they went to Hill-ville, Pulaski where they visited a large dairy farm, Radford and Christiansburg where the Chamber of Commerce entertained the group at Blackburn's experimental plot was inspected. Salem and Roanoke
were attentive to the farmers. Fincastle, National Bridge and Lexington
and communities up the Shenandoah valley where the fertile farms elicited
the keenest interest of the visitors.
At Harrisonburg, the North Carolinians
were shown a large poultry
farm and its incubators and hatchery.
At Winchester they visited a number of orchards now in full bearing. From there they went into Maryland and stopped at Frederickburg at Beltsville, Md. they were shown over the United States experimental station.

Washington was the climax of the trip for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace received the visiting group and made them a talk. This was last Tuesday morning. From Washington
they went to Arlington where they visited the government institute of agronomy. At Mount Vernon they were taken over the estate of George Washington. At Frederickburg they inspected a large guanoes farm owned by Judge Chichester and at Richmond where the visitors were given a cordial welcome they visited a number of large farms on the outskirts including the Curran Neck farm. From Richmond they motored to Charlotte courthouse where they had dinner
yesterday. Next they touched at South Boston arriving in Chatham last night
where they were lodged at Chatham
Training school.

WEATHER FORECAST

(By The Associated Press)

Virginia: Fair tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.
North Carolina: Generally
fair tonight and Saturday.

FIGHTS "FAGS"

G. Henri de Ronchi, head of the Clean Life League, will carry on Lucy Page Gaston's battle against cigarettes. Miss Gaston, on her deathbed, expressed satisfaction that De Ronchi was taking up the work
where she was leaving off.

TOWN TOPICS

Jail prisoners are now being fed
on home grown tomatoes. The productive area in the angle formed by the walls in the rear of the courthouse
is yielding tomatoes so plentifully
that Harper Chandler, jailor, has not only been giving them to firemen
but including the vegetable in the jail menu each day.

Traffic Officer M. L. Coward called attention today to the fact that the traffic ordinance which was suspended by the mayor during the recent convention of legionnaires has been automatically restored and that the old parking restrictions again hold sway.

The Danville Lions will feast at Whitmill tonight. This will be the second of a series of six rural meetings planned with a view to promoting friendship between the surrounding country and Danville. One of these meetings was held recently at Kentuck and was unusually successful. Brosville and all equipment which third place selection with the water
yets to be chosen. Tonight the Lions and their lionesses will fare forth to the farm life school which has won an enviable reputation not only in Virginia but in distant states.
The ladies of the Methodist church
will prepare a picnic supper on the school grounds. Party farmers and their wives have been invited and it is expected that about 175 will participate in the event.

The city market was given the first thorough cleaning it has had for a number of years yesterday afternoon.
Between four and six o'clock when a group of firemen carried hose there and washed the interior down. All provisions were removed. The ice boxes were locked up, the fans taking down and all equipment which might be damaged by the water and then the firemen turned on the hose
under natural pressure. The interior proved to be very dirty. Some years
the high ceiling was calcimined and the result of recent years has been
that in moist weather there was more or less constant dripping of water on the food. The fire hose cut away this covering and the market will be repainted later. Half a dozen rats some of them crawled half drowned from the water soaked floor floor. The firemen made a thorough job under the direction of Fire Chief Lewis Mitchell and Dr. W. G. Chrisman, city food inspector.

A new plumbing establishment has been opened on Floyd street extension J. C. Hall having opened an establishment in the rear of the Lee-land Hotel. Mr. Hall was for eight years with a well-known local company and decided recently to go into business for himself.

The appointment of a receiver for the big Wilson company, packers,
will not affect the local branch of the concern in Danville. A. D. Watson, district manager stated this morning
in declaring that he wished to correct some wrong impressions that the local concern would discontinue business. The local concern will continue to do business as heretofore, Mr.
Watson stated.

TO GUARD COURT WHEN JUDGE ISSUES SENTENCES

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—In the result of the trial of the two men who were charged with the murder of
Dr. George A. Weiss, Judge John R. Caverly
today began consideration of the sentences he will impose September 10
on Nathan Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers-slayers of Robert Frank.

He had before him the nearly 2,000
pages long record of the thirty-two days of testimony and argument in the judicial hearing which closed yesterday in which the state demanded
the railroads and the defense pleaded for imprisonment, offering a theory
of mental sickness in mitigation.

of Chicago, the jurist, occupying a du-

GLASS BETTER, TO RETURN TO CAPITAL SOON

Suffering From Erysipelas, Condition Shows Some Improvement

(By The Associated Press)
LYNCHBURG, Va., Aug. 29.—
Senator Carter Glass, who has been confined to his bed since Tuesday afternoon, is better today and expects to keep an appointment in Washington next week with his dentist.

Senator Glass had been enjoying his usual good health until a few days after his return home from the Democratic convention in New York,
when he, his son Powell and his grandson, Powell Jr., were taken sick at the same time, presumably
because of something they had eaten.
At the time it was erroneously reported that the senator had been taken sick in New York.

On Tuesday Senator Glass, who is spending the summer at his country
home, Montview farms, near Lynchburg, came to his town home to straighten up some papers. While engaged in this task he began to feel badly and lay down upon the bed. A doctor called and removed him to his home in Lynchburg, where he was shortly afterwards summoned by Dr. A. W. Terrill, the family physician.
The senator had a slight fever and was taken to his country home where it was found that his left foot was swollen and inflamed. Dr. Terrill pronounced him to be erysipelas,
an occasioned probably by an ab-
scessed tooth.

Asked for a statement as to Senator Glass' condition and the probability of his being able to active campaign, Dr. Terrill dictated the following statement:
"The condition of Senator Glass is in no way alarming. He is suffering from erysipelas, which is caused by an infection of the blood, very probably from a diseased tooth. As soon as the source of infection is definitely ascertained and removed, Senator Glass will begin to recover his normal good health. When he shall have done that there will be nothing
to prevent him taking active part in a political campaign but until then it would be exceedingly unwise for Senator Glass to subject himself to the strain of speech making, and I have forbidden him to do so."

POLICEMAN WHO WOUNDED GIRL AGAIN IN JAIL

Bondsman Surrenders Officer, Suspended For Shooting

(By The Associated Press)
WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 29.—
Former Policeman Benjamin Arnel,
released on bonds amounting to $3,000
Wednesday for the September court on charges growing out of the alleged reckless use of firearms in wounding Miss Mabel Runyon, was a jail prisoner today.

The officer, who is under suspension, was surrendered to the chief of police by his bondsman, Emmett L.
Henry, who declined to be further
responsible for him.
Miss Runyon was shot by Justice
last week. He testified at a justice court hearing that he mistook the girl for a white-robed figure that he thought was a burglar. He was sentenced to six months in jail for attempting to shoot Miss Mabel Jenkins, who was with Miss Runyon,
and held for the grand jury on a charge of shooting with intent to kill the latter girl.

DRAMATIC STORY TOLD BY KENDALL AS HE GOES ON STAND IN OWN BEHALF

Man Accused Of Slaying Physician Calmly Tells
Story Of Events Leading Up To And At Time Of Murder—Unwritten Law
And Self Defense His Defense

(By The Associated Press.)
SPOTSVYLVANIA, Va., Aug. 29.—Taking the stand in his own defense today, Charles B. Kendall, charged with the murder of the physician with having conducted himself improperly toward his sister and with having threatened her.

Kendall shot and killed Powell on a road at Granite Springs May 17th.

Before the defendant took the stand, the judge ordered the court room cleared of all children. Officers had difficulty in keeping back a large crowd of persons who rushed the doors to get seats vacated by children.

Kendall was composed as he took the stand. He spoke in a deep voice, looking intently at one member of the jury after another.

"How long have you been running the Kendall farm?" He was asked.

"About three years."

"When your sisters wanted anything, they came to you rather than your parents?"

"Yes."

"How long have you been running Powell?"

"About six years."

"How far apart do the Kendall and Powell families live?"

"Four or five miles."

"Did you know of your sister Meredith's engagement to Dr. Powell?"

"Yes sir, it was about 3 years."

"When did you first learn that your sister had been approached in an improper manner?"

"State's Attorney C. O'Connor Goodrick objected to the form of the question, and Harry M. Smith, defense attorney, was cautioned not to lead the witness."

"Mr. Smith turned to the accused."

"What did you hear first as to improper relations?"

"My mother told me on Thanksgiving, 1923, that Mrs. Young, my sister, had said that Dr. Powell could not keep his hands off Julia."

"When is the next time you heard?"

"When Mr. Clarence Jones told me that Julia had complained of Dr. Powell's conduct."

"Did Julia tell you anything about her troubles with Dr. Powell?"

"No, sir."

"Who were the people who told you?"

"My mother, Clarence Jones and my sister, Anne Meredith."

"What did Jones tell you?"

"He told me that Dr. Powell had treated Julia improperly one day after she had gotten up from the piano and then had grabbed her wrists, and made her promise not to say anything."

"What did your sister, Meredith tell you?"

"That Dr. Powell was very angry with me; that he had said I was lying about him. She told me he was out for me. She said he had accused me of not paying the family's poll taxes so they could not vote for Mr. Peter Powell, candidate for commonwealth's attorney."

"What did Miss Meredith tell you about her relations with Dr. Powell?"

"At Christmas she told me how he had insulted her and warned me to watch out for my sisters. She told me she had said something was going to happen to us that would make us keep quiet."

"Why did you not go to see Dr. Powell then?"

"I did not want to jeopardize my sisters. They no longer were going with him."

Kendall was questioned about the fight at Dulins store on the Wednesday night before the tragedy. The accused described the affair briefly and calmly.

GENEVA, Aug. 29.—Having delivered a fatal blow to the famous pact of mutual assistance and guarantees by the disarmament section of the League of Nations, the British government, it is expected, will come to Geneva for the fifth assembly of the League of Nations with some practical suggestions which can serve as a substitute for the pact.

While nothing official has reached the secretariat of the League the impression prevails that Premier MacDonald may favor on the floor of the assembly an extension of the policy

WOMAN'S GREATEST ASSET.
Health is woman's greatest asset. Upon it depends charm, beauty, power to attract others, happiness and success, and it is what really makes life worth living. Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backache, nervousness, mental depression and mysterious pains, who could find immediate relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which is made from roots and herbs. For nearly half a century this medicine has been recognized as the standard remedy for women's ills.—adv.

WORLD'S MOST DEMOCRATIC PRINCE

Prince Edward of Wales, due in United States today for a visit and known throughout the world as the most democratic member of any reigning royal family, has done much to restore the dwindling prestige of the British royal house.

His popularity in the British Isles is so great that statesmen have said he could run for any elective office and win over any candidate by a big majority.

The prince is as well liked in distant British possessions—Canada, Australia and New Zealand—as at home.

By his unassuming manner he overcame traditional American dislike for royalty and won the respect and admiration of the whole nation while on his tour of the United States.

Born in 1894.
The prince was born June 23, 1894, while his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, still sat in the British throne. He was christened Albert Edward Christian George Andrew Patrick David.

Shortly after his birth his grandfather, Edward VII, succeeded to the throne, leaving the prince's father as heir to the crown.

While Edward still was a boy his grandfather died and his father, George V, mounted the throne.

At 12 Prince Edward passed an examination for the British navy. He continued to qualify for a naval career at Osborne and Dartmouth.

Becomes Prince of Wales.
At the close of his course in 1911—when he was 17—Edward was formally invested with the title of Prince of Wales.

By request of the Welsh people the ceremony was held on Welsh soil for the first time since 1616.

Shortly after his investiture the prince entered the British navy as a midshipman on H. M. S. Hindustan.

He left his navy in 1912 to enter Oxford University. There he was a simple freshman without privileges.

His university course was interrupted in his third year by the outbreak of the World War. The prince was commissioned a second lieutenant.

But his father and Lord Kitchener refused to allow him to accompany his regiment to France. They feared the consequences if the royal heir were captured by the enemy.

Proves Hero in France.
But persistent pleas by the prince finally won the consent of the king and his war minister. On Nov. 20, 1914, Wales was sent to France as special aide de camp to Sir John French.

As a captain on the general staff Wales showed himself a leader of men. Disregarding the safeguards placed around him, he continually ran into danger.

Recognition of his valor came in the form of the French Croix de Guerre, personally bestowed by President Raymond, the close of the war the prince made his trip to Canada and the United States. In both countries he was received with great enthusiasm.

In November, 1920, he started on his present trip through British possessions in the Far East, despite the growing hostility to British rule shown there.

Rumors Rumored.
Rumors of romance between Wales and a half-breed European noblewoman have been frequent. But the prince persistently refused to marry.

Well-founded reports in England recently indicated that the prince's engagement to Lady Rachel Caven-

PRINCE EDWARD OF WALES, HEIR OF THE BRITISH THRONE—IN BRITISH ARMY UNIFORM AND IN CIVILIAN GARB.

dish was to be announced upon the prince's return from his eastern tour. Lady Rachel is a daughter of the Duke of Devonshire. Their connection is purely a love match, not dictated by diplomatic expediency.

It is into the soldier's hand.

His associates in the war continually advised him to shun danger.

"What difference does it make if I do get 'piped'?" he asked. "I've plenty of brothers at home to take my place."

The prince was noted for his shy, friendly speeches. At Washington he visited wounded soldiers at Walter Reed Hospital.

His only speech was: "Comrades in arms: I'm having a very good time in the United States and I hope you'll be out of the hospital soon and having a good time too."

from Netherlands, which said a mob of negroes were shooting at W. R. Swinney, a large land owner at Swinney, near Netherlands. The origin of the trouble was unknown here.

Good Morning Judge!

Tomorrow will be a solemn and eventful day in the notable career of Captain Wooding for he will hold for the last time the well-known "Mayor's Court" of Danville.

Captain Wooding next Monday enters upon his new four-year term as mayor of the city and relinquishes at midnight Saturday the dual post of Police Magistrate. Charles K. Carter will be on the bench next Monday morning.

Indications this afternoon pointed to some formal observance of the mayor's 32 years of service in municipal affairs.

Which he has presided as executive officer for so many years. Just what the programme will be is not disclosed. The press of the country has of recent weeks made mention of Mayor Wooding's long service and the magazine "Success" in the coming month's issue will devote an article to his remarkable career.

This morning Captain Wooding sought to dispose of accumulated postponed cases in order to give the post office cases to his successor.

The case of I. W. McDaniel charged with causing injury to G. W. Yeatts and W. D. Lewis in an automobile accident several weeks ago, as well as the case of a woman charged with the death of a child, were among the cases disposed of.

A fine of $16.00 was imposed for the disorder resulting in arrest while the graver charge of driving a car while intoxicated was dismissed.

Captain Wooding has packed up all of his accumulated correspondence and is ready to move to his executive headquarters in the Municipal building already prepared for him and which will occupy for the first time Monday morning.

Magistrate Carter, since his appointment, has had his seat frequently of late beside Mayor Wooding following his judicial prowess and familiarizing himself with the large task as arbiter of public wrongs during the coming year.

He has also devoted considerable time to a study of the city ordinances and state laws. Magistrate Carter's opening session is likely to be largely attended while the case of the mayor is on the court, it is expected that there will be a large outpouring of citizens desirous of showing by their presence, their affection for him and admiration for his long term of service.

Other cases acted on today follow: Mary Mayer, colored, charged with feloniously cutting Sallie Wyatt, also colored, with a razor during a brawl over a man, was held for the grand jury. A charge of having in her possession the razor resulted in a fine of $20.00.

John Mayer was acquitted of a similar charge in connection with the assault. A warrant against Janie Haden for being of ill fame was dismissed. The case of Ida Wall for assaulting George Wall was dismissed. Louis Robertson, colored, was freed of a charge of operating an ill-governed house, which was declared a nuisance.

SAVINOFF WILL LYNCHBURG IS NOT BE PUT TO WINNER OVER DEATH, BELIEF DANVILLE CLUB

Trial Of General Most Dramatic War Tribunal
Has Ever Dealt With

(By The Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—The trial and conviction yesterday of General Boris Savinkoff constituted probably by the most dramatic case that has come before the revolutionary war tribunal.

Savinkoff, former military governor of Petrograd and assistant minister of the Keresensky cabinet, was sentenced to death on a multitude of charges growing out of his seven years' struggle against the Soviet regime.

A stay of execution was ordered, however, to allow an appeal for pardon to the executive committee, as Savinkoff acknowledged his guilt and expressed a desire to support the Soviet.

The case was regarded by the government as important to its safety and prestige.

There was neither prosecution nor defense but every detail was dramatic and thrilling.

Savinkoff, himself a revolutionary, organized the assassination of Prime Minister Plehve and Grand Duke Sergius, which gave the first signal for the Russian revolution, he was opposed for the advance by the Russian army in July 1917.

He raised an army to defend the constituent assembly in Samara and directed his activities against the Bolsheviks.

"I know your decision beforehand. I recognize all my guilt, but they were all involuntary as I never sought anything for myself."

He is convinced Savinkoff asserted, that the Reds were right and that he was wrong in regard to the support of the Russian people of the Soviet regime.

Savinkoff asked the court to remember in delivering sentence, that he had never been an enemy of the people, that he had spent his life as a revolutionary and that he had his neck in a noose a hundred times, he did not return to Russia with bombs and he had thrown his revolver away on the other side of the border.

LYNCHBURG, Aug. 29.—By the largest crowd that has attended a baseball game in Lynchburg in years was present yesterday at the Fair grounds, and while the main attraction of the afternoon was the splendid showing made by both of the military organizations of the city, and the attempts of the baseball players to catch a baseball dropped by Miss Mabel Cody from her airplane which flew over the grounds, the interest in the game, and especially the showing made by Mosby who pitched for Lynchburg, held the crowd until the finish.

Lynchburg won the game by the score of 5 to 0. There was never any doubt of the result of the game with Mosby pitching the kind of ball that he showed yesterday. Lynchburg took a batting streak and this coupled with a series of errors on the part of the visitors enabled them to pile up runs almost at will. The teams were not so unevenly matched as the score would indicate, but Danville simply could not do a thing with Mosby. The work of the visitors in the field was very erratic, but as so little time had been given Manager O'Dell to get his team together for the game, this was not unexpected.

Mosby allowed the visitors two hits, fanned eleven men and did not give a base on balls or hit a man. Mattox, as shortstop, played a spectacular game handling eight chances without an error, while Tyree at third knocked down one hard shot over the base and got the runner at first. Bowen, Dennis and Foxmore led the hitters. So effective was Mosby's pitching that no fly balls were knocked to the outfielders.

A cafe with a seating capacity of 300 was built and opened for business within 22 days at the British Empire Exhibition.

Linwood Wrenn has returned from Atlanta, Asheville and other Southern parts.

rected This.

"For five years, Tanlac has kept me in splendid health and I never missed an opportunity to praise it," said Mrs. A. H. Johnson, 2305 Fairmont Ave., Richmond, Va., recently.

"In 1918, influenza left me without appetite, my digestion and nerves upset and so weak I could hardly walk. In a few weeks, through the fine appetite, digestion and nerves Tanlac gave me, and being able to sleep so good, I was feeling perfectly strong and well.

"Then, two years ago, rheumatism set in. It was in my shoulders and limbs so bad it seemed nothing could help me. But I began taking Tanlac again, and soon the rheumatism practically disappeared. Since then I haven't had any serious trouble for when I feel any sign of rheumatism or any other ailment, I take Tanlac and it always sets me right. Tanlac is the best ever."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept a substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Miscellaneous Shower
The Industrial Girls Club of the Y. W. C. A. entertained in honor of Miss Agathe Daniel last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Pearl Young, president of the club. A most delicious shower to the bride-elect whose marriage to Rev. Henry Little, of Springfield, Mo. will take place the seventeenth of September at the home of the bride in Springfield. The girls of the club which Miss Daniel has been instrumental in developing into its present character, together with Miss Daniel, first enjoyed an hour of popular music, led by Miss D. Walker, pianist, and Miss Pearl Young, violinist. Following the music all were invited into the dining-room which had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, where delightful refreshments were served. A large wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, formed a centerpiece and was surrounded by lighted white and green candles held in crystal candlesticks. While Miss Sallie Young and Miss Cuna Williams served refreshments the cake was cut amidst much merriment and the guests were presented with many gifts of linen and household articles. The party included: Miss Timie Vernon, Effie Reese, Emma Dodson, Florence Davis, Minnie Eanes, Pearl Gorman, Anne Sue Keilam, Nabel Williams, Lucille Bollen, Mrs. C. M. Reese, Mrs. A. D. Lewis and Mrs. Capitola Young.

Bedbugs Conquered
With Aid of Science

Richmond chemists evolve formula that destroys these hardy pests

For centuries the bedbug has been the most perplexing problem a careful housekeeper faced. Elusive, persistent, disgusting—this hardy invader defies the methods successful in destroying other pests. Only recently has there been placed in the hands of housewives a scientific weapon that routs this loathsome visitor—every time. This effective defense against bedbugs is Dethol—a modern, liquid preparation formulated by Richmond chemists after years of careful experiment. Sprayed along baseboards, in floor cracks and crevices in wallpaper, the deadly fumes of Dethol penetrate to the unsuspected hiding places of these pests, destroying both bedbugs and their eggs. Sprayed thoroughly into the tufts of mattresses and about all parts of the bed, Dethol kills without staining even the most delicate fabrics or coverings. Periodic spraying will keep away these pests. Full directions on can. Dethol is certain death to all insect life—flies, mosquitoes, moths, roaches, ants, etc. Many housewives find it a valuable aid, also, in cleaning. Sprayed lightly on windows, drapes, table, etc., Dethol cuts dirt like magic—no soap, no scrubbing. Sprayed articles will be clean in one day. Dethol also disinfects. Drug, grocery, hardware and department stores sell Dethol in the handy combination package—complete with sprayer and large can of liquid—for 85c. You really cannot afford to be without Dethol. If your dealer hasn't Dethol, we will send you the combination package, post paid, on receipt of one dollar. Dethol Mfg. Co., Inc., Richmond, Va.

Party in Reidsville
The largest and most delightful affair of the late summer was given by Messrs. Abby and Edgington Penn at their home in Reidsville, Wednesday evening when they entertained more than a hundred of the younger society folks at a summer party at Reidsville Lake. Followed by a Brunswick-stew, and a watermelon feast, and a dance at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Penn, of Greensboro. High Point, Danville, Lakeville, Martinsville and South Boston motored to Reidsville in the afternoon, returning home after the dance which lasted until 1 o'clock. Music was furnished by Westbrook Orchestra.

Dinner-Party

Thos. Hitchcock Youngest Man On Polo Team
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., number two on the 11 team who will defend the national championship cup against Great Britain is the youngest and most colorful man on either team. Hitchcock now only 24 years of age, was shot down by a German plane during the war and later captured by a German prison. His polo career, before and after his interruption by the war, stamps him as one of the most brilliant players in the world. He is handicapped with the maximum ten goals. He made 10 goals in the game when he was 12 and at 17 was a member of the team which won the cup and senior championship with Duxbury, Miburn, back and J. Watson Webb. Hitchcock is the defending American team. He played on the international four which brought the cup home from England in 1921. He also was a member of the open championship team of 1922 and 1923. The American team of 1924 is the best yet.

PASSENGERS CARELESS
LONDON, Aug. 28.—The forgetfulness of passengers traveling by air is the chief cause of accidents, according to the British Airways Corporation. The company's statistics also show that 25 percent of the accidents were caused by passengers who were careless in getting on and off the plane.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotion Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM KARL WHITNEY TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

DEAR LESLIE:
I have been wanting Alice to write you ever since our marriage. She has promised to do this from day to day, but she has become very much interested in some lessons in dramatics and dancing, and hardly gets time to eat properly, let alone to attend to any of her other duties. I have come to the conclusion if any explanation is ever made to you I shall have to make it.

Now I want to apologize for her act in writing a letter to your husband. I do not think, Leslie, that Alice really realized what she was doing. Surely she would not do it because of those trumpery pearl heads I have come to the conclusion, however, that in her great love of dramatizing herself she wrote this letter to your husband for the adventure in it.

On the day after her hysterical outburst before your mother and myself I found her in the summer house crying as though her heart would break. She had a vial marked poison at her mouth. I snatched it from her just in time. She told me that in a spirit of fun more than anything else she wrote your husband the letter telling him to ask you about the necklace.

She said she had no idea that John would be so silly as to take the letter seriously. I tried to get her to tell me just exactly what she wrote in the letter but she had already forgotten. Her whole explanation was incoherent, and I am sure for she was sobbing hysterically all the time. At last I succeeded in calming her, but she seemed to think she could not stay in her father's house any longer.

Take me away, Karl, take me away, she pleaded. "I don't want to stay here, I want to be alone with you. For some reason my family don't understand me, no one loves me but you. Even my own mother takes Leslie's part all the time." Of course I knew that she did not understand what she was saying so I promised to take her away immediately.

She was a pitiful little creature, Leslie, and would not be pacified otherwise. I told her we would be married immediately. Poor child! I am very sorry for her. She has such an imagination and she plans not only her own life but everyone else's out completely, and then she is very disappointed and unhappy when it does not turn out just the way she thought it would.

She tells me she loves you and will never forgive her but she loves you greatly, and it is breaking her heart. I wish you would write her, Leslie, and tell her that you forgive her. I know that you are even big enough to do that.

I think she should be back where her mother can talk to her. I never realized before what a strange disposition my wife Alice has. She now has the peculiar idea that she must go to the stage—says she must have something to do when I get tired of her. With her temperament, I cannot allow her to do that. I shall rely upon your father and mother to talk her out of it.

I hope by this time that you have explained the whole thing to your husband, and are happy and contented again. I expect you will never wear the pearls again, but I would like to have you keep them and give them to your little daughter, if you should have one; if not, to your son's wife.

If you wish me to write to Mr. Prescott, I will do so with pleasure. Let me hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
KARL

USE A COLANDER
To wash rice put it in a colander or strainer and set in a bowl of cold water. Rub the rice with the hands and change the water, repeating until it is clear.

KEEP FOOD COVERED
Before beginning to seep or clean your kitchen be sure to see that no food is left uncovered in the room.

USE DRY TOWEL
Never use a damp towel to wipe spoons or glasses, as it makes them dull.

SERVE REAL FOOD
Make a point of serving children real food instead of unwholesome sweets. Sweets occupy an important place in a child's diet, but wholesome foods should be selected. Cakes, pastry, commercial sugar and candy are creatures of disease and inefficiency. Unwholesome sweets are the greatest enemies to sound tooth structures.

Assassins Kill Eighth Victim

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The eighth victim of assassins in six weeks in Little Italy, on the north side, was shot to death on the stairs leading to his home today.

He was Frank Marotta, 39, Marotta was not entirely unprepared for a deadly encounter—three loaded revolvers, and additional amount of ammunition, he had hidden in his home. But the slayers had shot him before he had a chance to use his weapons.

Coolidge Returns To Washington

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Coolidge returned to Washington at 7 a. m. today after a two weeks' vacation on his father's farm at Plymouth, Vermont.

The president, with Mrs. Coolidge, and their son John left the train immediately for the White House for breakfast, after which he took up at once the chain of old duties. Beginning the day's work with a cabinet meeting this morning and an address later in the day before the delegates attending the convention of the National Fraternal Congress, his vacation since taking over the presidency was definitely ended.

MERGER TERMS EXPECTED TO BE GIVEN TODAY

Official Statement in Connection With Consolidation Forthcoming

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—An official statement giving all the terms and details of the proposed merging of the Nickel Plate system with four other railroads into one large system is expected to be issued today on behalf of O. P. and M. J. answering of Cleveland, who engineered the merger. It will be the second major consolidation under the transportation act in 1920. The issuance of this statement, it was pointed out, was made possible by the action taken by directors of the Pere Marquette railway in approving the terms of the merger at a special meeting yesterday. The Pere Marquette is the last of the five railroads included in the combination to take official action on the proposed consolidation. In addition to the Nickel Plate, the consolidated system will include the Erie railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Hocking Valley and the Pere Marquette.

The statement expected to be issued on behalf of the Van Sweringen today, it is understood, will vary little so far as terms are concerned, from the semi-official statement issued through J. P. Morgan and company a few days ago, the latter revealing the amount of new stock the stockholders of the respective roads included in the merger would receive in exchange for their shares. It was stated yesterday that the machinery would be set in motion within the next few days to get the approval of the stockholders and the interstate commerce commission for the merger.

The meeting of the directors of the Pere Marquette railroad company yesterday lasted about one hour. Virtually every director attended and it was said there was not a single dissenting vote on the terms offered by the Van Sweringens.

Bus Association Meet in Roanoke September 15-16

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 28.—Between 200 and 300 operators of motor bus lines in all parts of the state are expected to attend the second annual convention of the motor bus association of Virginia in Roanoke, Sept. 15-16. S. A. Markel, of Richmond, chairman of the convention committee announced today.

A number of Richmonders will attend the meeting and the state corporation commission as well as other state departments will be represented according to present expectations.

The convention is regarded as particularly important, as it is the first to be held since the motor vehicle laws were so drastically amended at the 1924 session of the general assembly. Mr. Markel said. Motor bus operation in all its phases will be discussed, especially with reference to the new laws.

Presidents of a number of southern bus associations, as well as speakers from New York and other cities, are expected to attend. Among the topics to be taken up will be "motor carrier problems," "law enforcement," and "public relations." Business sessions will be held the mornings of both days of the convention with the afternoons and evenings given up to entertainment.

The new motor vehicle law passed at the recent legislative session is in accordance with the recommendations of the motor bus association of Virginia. Mr. Markel said. It divided the carriers into classes, required every carrier to guarantee dependable service and gave the state corporation commission control of rates.

POSSES HUNT 3 TRAIN ROBBERS AND MURDERERS

College Professor "Out-Sherlocks" Holmes Himself and Gives Valuable Clues

By L. C. OWEN

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
REDDING, Calif., Aug. 28—A dozen heavily armed sheriffs' posses are combing the rugged mountain country north of here in search of three alleged train robbers and murderers. Some time within the next 24 hours they may bring to a spectacular climax a drama of scientific criminology in which a humble B.A. by college professor has "out-Sherlocked" Sherlock Holmes.

The trio being sought by a band of sheriff's posses are the desperate D. Autremont brothers who fled for the hills up of a Southern Pacific passenger train and the woman leader of three railroad employees who, the California-Oregon line last September and who since that time have eluded capture in a 20,000 mile chase that led through three countries.

Following the usual receipt of criminal custom the three brothers are believed to have returned to the scene of their crime a few days ago and now to be hiding in the out-of-the-way of the Klamath forest reserve, forty miles north of here. The man hunt being waged for them is one of the most intensive and unrelenting ever waged in the far west.

Should the pursuing posses be successful and the three men sought as desperadoes be landed safely behind the bars they will owe their downfall to a bespectacled instructor of California tutor who, when others failed, led, and without moving from the narrow confines of his laboratory, 200 miles away, picked unerring clues regarding their identity, seemingly out of thin air.

The central figure in this mystery is a detective tale which out of the most hard fiction exploits of Ned Carter or Conan Doyle may be said to be Professor E. O. Heinrichs, chemist, pharmacist, microscopist and instructor in scientific crime detection at the University of California. In all his life Professor Heinrichs never carried a pistol worn a police badge or actually participated in a criminal man hunt except by theoretical long distance.

How the college professor took a pair of overalls discarded by one of the robbers near the scene of the crime and from a few pinches of dust, some wood chips and other insignificant bits found in the pockets not only furnished the law officers with an accurate description of the culprit but actually established his identity, was revealed here today by railroad special agents participating in the D. Autremont man hunt.

In the same processes it also developed that he saved an innocent man from an execution who had been taken into custody and against whom until Professor Heinrichs disapproved it there was much circumstantial evidence.

A pair of greasy overalls with some electric batteries used in an attempt to charge of dynamite under an express car were the only clues left behind by the robbers. After every square inch of the overalls had been fruitlessly searched for clues they were sent to Professor Heinrichs at Berkeley. Not however before the batteries had been traced to a garage several miles away and an ex-convict employed as a mechanic there whom the overalls happened to fit had been arrested.

Under the discerning eye of the college professor, directed through a microscope, the overalls were not only connected him with the robbery but the supposed grease was not grease at all but spruce fir pitch with which the wearer had come in contact at some lumber camp. Next the professor-criminologist searched the pockets of the overalls thoroughly. While to a casual observer they contained no clues worth while, to a trained scientific observer they offered a wealth of information. Examined under a stereoscopic microscope, which magnified 500 times, insignificant pinches of dust revealed themselves into bits of Douglas fir needles, fingernail cuttings, tiny pine chips, bits of leaves and red soil, common only in one section of Western Oregon. Heinrichs found caught in the buttons of the discarded garments when put under a microscope were brown.

"The man who wore the overalls was a left handed, white lumber jack, brown haired, probably dark eyed, of medium height, rather stocky built, fastidious, about 25 years old and he comes from a certain town in Western Oregon," said the professor.

From the batteries found near the robbery, also developed that the finger prints, which through comparison divulged the identity of a young man with a criminal record from the same town in Western Oregon. Officers investigating further found that the college professor's description of the former owners of the overalls and the man whose fingerprints were discovered in the overalls. From these clues unscrupled as it were by Professor Heinrichs, where no clues were deemed by veteran man hunters to exist, officers of the law shortly established facts which almost infallibly linked one of the D. Autremonts and later his two brothers with the triple murder and train robbery.

The fact that suspect was left handed was established by the college professor by particles of wood chips found only on the right hand pocket of the overalls. A left handed lumber jack, he explained to officers, always stands on the right side toward a tree when wielding an axe and it is possible for him to fall only in the right pocket.

The same line of deduction led to characterization of the man as fastidious. Only a man who was extremely careful of his personal appearance pared his fingernails as thin as those found under the microscope in the pinches of pocket dust.

The last substantiation of the Berkeley college professor's deductions is the thousands of miles the D. Autremonts already have fled in their efforts to evade arrest and the boast made by them at several places that they never would be taken alive.

DELAWARE COUPLE ARE TAKEN AT WINCHESTER

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 28—Earl B. Compton 25 and Mrs. Florence Shepherd also 25, arrested here for authorities of Concord, Delaware county, Pennsylvania charged with robbing a hotel of $200 and also with fraudulent conversion have been taken back to that place by detectives.

The pair is said to have worked here some months ago and to have returned for a second visit where they are alleged to have registered as man and wife at a local boarding house. When confronted with photographs taken with Compton in Concord Mrs. Shepherd is said to have confessed to police that she has deserted her husband and four children in the Pennsylvania town. Compton and the woman are alleged to have been employed in the Hotel Concordville and to have rifled the cash register of $200 in cash and also to have retained funds which came into their hands and belonged to the proprietor.

Compton is said to be a native of Lancaster, Pa. while Mrs. Shepherd is from Philadelphia.

EXPLAIN ACTIVITY IN THE M. K. AND T. SHARES

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28—Recent stock market activity in the shares of the reorganized Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad was explained today in an announcement by Swartz and Appenzeller, members of the New York stock exchange, that they had been acquiring the common stock for clients and were still purchasing it.

It had been reported in the financial district that the interests represented by this brokerage firm had obtained a working control of the road through purchase of approximately one-third of the stock in the open market which was said to have cost about $3,500,000.

In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Atlantic City, watering summer resort of the east, is suffering the worst business depression in 11 years, while New York is enjoying an exorbitant summer boom.

New York, although never logically considered as a summer resort, always draws enormous crowds of sightseers during the vacation season. People who in their youth have vowed to "see New York or bust" take their yearly two weeks fun period to see the sights of a great town.

But in New York their presence is scarcely noted. They stop at the more popular transient and side street hotels, admitting they would rather spend their money doing things than spending all of it for hotel accommodations.

Yesterday I talked to four Indiana girls making their first trip to New York. In the winter they are employed as school teachers. They were pathetically disappointed in the city. The fictional picture unbedded in their grasping imaginations was destroyed with reality. In the few days they were here they scratched merely the surface of things. They did not have time nor opportunity to delve into the places and things that make New York interesting and distinctive.

Thus many people make a summer

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. routs out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes and "pep".

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PENNOCK AND MATES BLOW UP; WASHINGTON WINS.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Washington took the lead from the New Yankees here today as the result of an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, six of them after two were out. The score was 11 to 6. Ruth hit his 41st and 42nd home runs and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The New York club collapsed shortly after that. A fumble by Dugan let in the second run of the inning.

With two out and New York still a run ahead, Goslin drove a liner to Witt, but the sun blinded the fielder as he was set for the catch. It went for a three base hit, scoring three runs. Three more runs followed, two after Dugan prolonged the inning with a second fumble.

Washington drove out eighteen hits. Rice hit two doubles and three singles and Goslin hit a home run, a triple, a double and a single and drew a base on balls.

TOBACCONISTS GET ONLY THREE HITS OFF SHELTON AND BULLS EASIY WIN

Durham, Aug. 28.—Hackney allowed the Tobaccoists but three measly hits this afternoon and Durham copped the first game of the series by the score of 6 to 1. Westledge started off in great form, but his wildness, errors and a slow infield took away his effectiveness and the locals found him for eleven bingles. He struck out six men in the first three innings. Trefrey, Staley and Cochlin got Danville's only hits.

For the first six innings only 18 men faced Hackney. He didn't allow a hit and but one man reached first, this on an error when Smith dropped Myers' high fly.

In the seventh inning Trefrey got the first hit of the Danville team. He was forced at second by Monroe. Staley hit to right safely for the second hit and Monroe went to third. McDonald sent a long fly to Irby and Monroe scored. Smith sent up a fly.

In the first inning Irby walked and was sacrificed. Smith struck out Mal Jones, tripled, scoring Irby. Mal Jones walked. In the second inning Lennox whiffed and stole second but Jones struck out. Sessions walked and Hackney struck out. Irby singled, scoring Lennox. Bourg singled, scoring Sessions. Trefrey's bobble permitted him to score, though he may not have been held at third. In the third after Brummitt had doubled on Lennox's single, Jones and Sessions fanned in a row. The box score follows:

EARLY LEAD PROVES TOO MUCH FOR GREENSBORO

HIGH POINT, Aug. 28.—High Point piled up a commanding lead in the early stages of today's game which Greensboro was unable to overcome and the Furniture Makers took the first game of the series by the score of 8 to 6. Townsend got his twentieth home run of the season. Dave Harris made a sensational catch of a line drive against the fence. Four hits including two field outs gave High Point their five runs in the second inning.

Senators Trim Yankees and Go on Top; Phillies Win 2

YANKEES GO TO PIECES AFTER THEY APPARENTLY HAD THE GAME SEWED UP

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Washington Senators are on top at last, leading their league a half game to the fore of the Yankees who dropped to second place, going down 10-1 in the first game of the series with the Harris out 11-4.

With the Yankees leading 6 to 3 at the beginning of the eighth inning, victory seemed assured for the "Yankees." Then came the barrage of two Washington batters hit safely and Herb Pennock was called for a ball. He was rushed to the rescue but to no avail. Peckinpah, next man up, grounded out to Scott and one Washington run scored. Leibold batted for one to right field, filling the bases. Harris slammed one at Dugan, who fumbled and another run scored. With the bases still crowded and the winning run on third, Huggins replaced Jason with Sam Jones who made it out when Leibold was forced at the plate. At this point it looked brighter for the Yankees but only for a moment. For Goslin, the next man up, lifted one in the sun, three runs scoring. In the sun, three runs scoring. Bluege, Ruel and Peckinpah all hit safely in order and three more Washington runners crossed the plate. The inning ended when Marvyn who had by this time replaced Leibold for the final out. Marvyn, who went into pitch the last two innings for the Senators turned back the Yankees without a score.

Babe Ruth hit two home runs in the game and passed his 100th home run when he hit his forty-second homer of the season in the seventh inning. He is still behind his record at this time in 1921 during which season he scored in all fifty-nine home runs.

Detroit club remained idle in third place but gained a half game on the Yankees. In the second place three games away.

The Red Sox scored a double victory over the Athletics in Boston, winning the first 6-3 and the second 8-7. Chicago and Cleveland broke even in their doubleheader, the Indians winning the first 7-0 but after ten hard fought innings, losing the second 7-6. Pittsburgh dropped another half notch in the older organization when the Reds knocked Cooper out of the box and won 5-4. The Pirates are now five games to the rear of the Giants who were not scheduled to play yesterday.

Brooklyn, in third place reter and gained a half game on the Pittsburgh crew, thereby are now two games behind the Pirates and seven games back of New York.

Playing on their own ball field the Cubs took two games from the Cardinals, winning the opener 5-2 and the finisher 8-3. Rogers Hornsby, leading batter of the majors, got four hits in seven times at bat.

The Phillies shoved the Braves deeper in the cellar when they annexed two games from the Boston club 1-0 and 9-3.

RADIO BECOMES A SPORTS FEATURE

By ISRAEL KLEIN
Sports have adopted radio as a valuable helpmate.

Beginning with the broadcasting of important fighting events and world championship baseball games, radio has become an important factor in the dissemination of reports covering other big sporting features. Horse tennis matches, golf tournaments, even the Olympics at Colombes, France, have had this additional touch to spread their popularity.

Even now plans are being made for the broadcasting of practically every movement during the international horse races at Belmont Park and Aqueduct, on Sept. 4, and 27, when the famous French horse Epineur, will reveal its skill. The national tennis matches at Forest Hills, L. I., for both men's and women's championships, to be held the latter part of this month and the earlier part of next, are also planned for broadcasting to radio fans.

Good Announcers
Broadcasting station, WJZ in New York will report the races and WEAF will conduct the tennis broadcasts. The announcers will be the most competent authorities obtainable, both in point of sports experience and in enunciation.

For the races J. Andrew White, who has reported many horse races on other sport events by radio, will be at the microphone. For the tennis tournament a competent authority on this sport, one who can visualize every play quickly, and is able to interpret it clearly and distinctly, is being sought.

At Colombes, France during the Olympics, the French had a portable equipment on the field from which news of the events was broadcast the moment each was completed.

Added Popularity
Golf tournaments at various points in the country have already been reported to radio fans almost in unison with every stroke. This method of popularizing the sport has been considered so successful that it is being adopted as a regular feature of such tournaments.

Broadcasting is usually done by direct wire from the field to the station which puts the news immediately on the air.

Next fall we may expect more widespread use of this feature of radio in connection with college football games. It will be a great method of popularizing the sport has been considered so successful that it is being adopted as a regular feature of such tournaments.

Sport fans may all but see important events, thanks to radio. Through the large broadcasting stations reports of these features come to the fans direct from the playing fields. Upper view shows announcers reporting a feature of the Olympics at Colombes, France. Lower photo shows the use of radio at a recent golf tournament at the Hinsdale Country Club near Chicago.

Adoption of radio in connection with these sport events is itself a proof of its beneficial effect on sports. Both sports and radio are mutually beneficial in that each produces more fans for the other.

Thirteen Still in the Running in Tennis Contests

(By The Associated Press)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Thirteen stars of the tennis world remain in the hunt for the men's national singles championship here today. Nine American and four foreign stars are still in the running for the crown won by Wm. Tilden, of Philadelphia. Of these thirteen, three had reached the fifth round, the bracket below the semi-finals, while the remaining ten will compete today in the fourth round. No fifth round matches will be played today. Tilden faces Jack Wright, of the Canadian Davis Cup team, Wm. Johnston of San Francisco, meets Elmer Griffith, another Pacific star; Rene LaCoste, of France plays B. I. C. Noron of St. Louis, Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia meets John Hennessey of Indianapolis and Vincent Richards of Yonkers, N. Y., takes on Dean Mathey, of New York.

Herald Kinsey of San Francisco, Gerald Patterson of Australia and George M. Lott, Jr., Chicago school boy, have reached the fifth round of play.

Sharkey Fights Rojas Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight boxer, and Romero Rojas, Chilean challenger for Jack Dempsey's crown, meet here tonight in a fight of particular importance to each man because one or the other will be eliminated from further immediate championship aggression.

The winner of the ten round go will be given the chance to meet the best men of the class.

Opinion among local fight fans and sport writers forecast a victory for Sharkey.

INCREASE EARNINGS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Heavy trans-Atlantic travel and reduced operating costs enabled the International Mercantile Marine company to increase earnings in the first half of the year about $1,800,000 over the corresponding period of 1923.

WORLD FLYERS MAY GET AWAY ON SATURDAY

Continued Storms Prevent Globe Circlers From Leaving Greenland

(By The Associated Press)

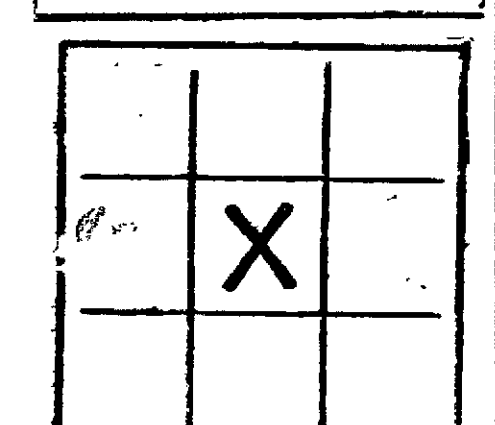

U. S. S. RICHMOND, AT ICE TIC-KLE, Labrador, Aug. 29.—Continuing storm weather has caused further postponement of the American army world aviators' flight here from Iceland to Greenland. It is now announced that no attempt will be made to get away before tomorrow morning.

The route of the flight stretches for 572 miles across the arm of the Atlantic which sweeps north-northwest into Davis strait and serves as a highway for icebergs floating down the Labrador coast into the broad ocean. The warm air from the south, meeting the ice, cause dense fogs almost constantly, making an aerial crossing perilous except under unusually favorable conditions. Marine reports place the fog occurrence as high as sixty per cent.

Unusual precautions have been taken by the convoying naval squadron to safeguard the birdmen on this final and dangerous leg of their homeward trans-Atlantic swing. No less than six ships will be stationed along the route in constant communication and with an elaborate system of signaling to the aviators as they pass. As the planes proceed each of the vessels will inform the aviators by signals of the weather prospects ahead.

DAILY PUZZLE

Everyone is familiar with the game of "Tic-Tat-Toe, Three in a Row." One player makes an X in one of the nine sections of the diagram, the other makes an O, and each one plays in turn, the game being to make three crosses or circles in a row, and thus win the contest.

The first player made an X in the center. Now comes the crucial move. If the second player puts an O in a wrong square, the first player is certain to win, if he plays properly. Can you discover the play which will make the second player lose, and can you show the system which the first player must adopt to take advantage of his opponent's mistake?

Yesterday's answer:

The second partner lost $32. The division was made as follows: A, the first partner, was to receive 1-5 of the profits, B, the second partner, 4-5. A took $50 before the settlement. Then from the final receipts of $540, B took $45 (4-5 of $50), and then $400 (4-5 of what remained. Thus B received $440. But, in a correct division, the $50 taken by A should have been included in the total receipts, thus making a total of $590, therefore, should receive 4-5 of $590, namely, $472. Thus B, the second partner, lost $32, the difference between $472 and $440.

Catcher Smith Out of Game With Injured Finger

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Earl Smith, catcher who joined the Pittsburgh Nationals just in time to play a heavy part in the recent Pirate drive toward the top of the league, probably will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season. An X-ray photograph last night showed he had a dislocated finger caused when a foul tip struck his right hand in the game with Philadelphia Wednesday.

Smith, one of the best hitters of the team, was being counted upon by Manager McKelchrie to play a big part in the Pirates' final drive for the pennant.

The trams, buses and railways of the London Underground Co. carry an average of 11,000,000 passengers every week-end.

VA. TO SEND MOST H. S. GRADUATES TO COLLEGE

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 29.—Virginia will send a larger percentage of her 1924 high school graduates to colleges and universities this autumn than almost any other state in the union.

It was the opinion here today of Dr. W. T. Sanger, secretary of the State Board of Education who said that out of 5,566 high school graduates last June, 2,227 could be expected to enter the lists of collegiate institutions in September.

"Most of the students will enter Virginia institutions," continued the secretary, "and a large percentage of them will finish the four year courses."

"In some states," he said, "the attitude is that high schools train for life, but this is not true of Virginia where the high schools stress the training for higher studies with a credit system of college credit courses. The collegiate record of each of the high school students, entering the higher institutions will be reported to the Board of Education upon the completion of the first year's classes. These reports will be used by the department in checking up on the work of the various high schools and determining the efficiency of them with the view of assisting and aiding them to reach and maintain superior methods of teaching."

The secretary called attention to the fact that twelve years ago when the accredited high school system was instituted in Virginia there were but 1453 high school graduates as compared with 5,566 this year. "This indicates clearly the desire for training for college education which is growing by leaps and bounds," he declared.

"Opportunity for securing collegiate education in Virginia institutions is one of wide range," continued Dr. Sanger, "as there are many colleges and universities of varying grades and types in the state. There are 16 standard four-year colleges and universities. One new college was added in 1924. Virginia in addition there are four standard normal schools, six professional and teachers colleges, and twelve standard Junior colleges. Two new Junior colleges were added during the year last, the Shenandoah Collegiate Institute, at Dayton, Va., and the Virginia Theological Seminary and College college department for colored at Lynchburg. One institution is being founded."

LOEB ALWAYS TRIED TO HIDE EDUCATION, "PATCHES" SAYS

By GEORGE BRITT

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Germaine Reinhard had "Dick" Loeb for a caller in her home two days after he killed "Bobby" Franks. She had another date with him the Saturday of the following week, from which he was unavoidably detained by his arrest.

The foregoing isn't news, because defense attorneys made it public when they summoned the 18-year-old girl to testify at the boys' trial. But she never was placed on the witness stand. And until now her intimate story of "Dick" and "Babe" Leopold has remained untold.

Miss Reinhard is the "Patches" of trial stories. The nickname is flippant, she insists, and her friends know her as "Bud."

She is a round-faced, brown-eyed, worldly, winsome child, this playmate of the two young millionaires. Her home in her parents' apartment, in comfortable, well furnished, unpretentious, west village.

"I met Dick last winter in a loop department store," playing mah jongg," says "Bud."

"I knew the girl who was teaching the game and went to see her. Dick was there and she introduced us."

"We talked about the University of Illinois, where I went for a few months, and about Michigan. Kidding each other, you know. I liked him and was glad to give him my phone number."

"Dick called me in a few days and came out to see me. He came back and I began going out with him lots of places. We would see each other two or three times a week."

"He introduced me to 'Babe' Leopold, and we went out, sometimes with 'Babe' and Susan Lurie. I never had a date with 'Babe' alone and Dickie and I were never engaged—just friends."

"When we went to places on the South Side, Dick didn't like it because fellows he knew there would come over to our table and want to dance with me. And on the North Side, fellows I knew would try to butt in. So we finally agreed that when we went together he should have every dance but one."

"If there was anything insane or abnormal—or indicating deficient emotion about her two friends, "Bud" doesn't recall it.

"My family thought it was a joke when they heard the boys had been arrested and teased me about having a date with a jailbird," she narrates. "Dick was at the house two evenings after the murder. He was just the same as always. He started talking about how terrible it was, and mother said she didn't like to think of it."

"He called me up the day after the murder. When I said I didn't know anything of it, he got a paper and read me the account over the phone."

"The only queer thing about Dick's disposition was his moodiness. He would take spells of being silent and distant, sometimes two or three times in an evening."

Acad Like High School Freshman.
"I think 'Babe' though was pretty cold and unemotional. Dick was unusually affectionate. He is the kind that likes petting whenever he can get any encouragement from the girl."

"Dick tried to conceal his education and acted like a high school freshman. 'Babe' wanted to impress you with his. But neither one paraded his wealth."

"One thing that surprises me, now that everything about the boys has come out is Dick's drinking. He took drinks three or four times while I was with him. But I told him I didn't like it, and it was very seldom he ever did."

"I used to think he was unusually truthful. He had the most convincing way you ever listened to. Some of the things he told me have turned out not to be so, though."

"Dick did not like animals. I brought in a little Pomeranian dog once, and Dick climbed up on the piano bench so it couldn't touch him."

"Both of the boys were greatly impressed with their fathers. Dick's father was more strict than Mr. Leopold. 'Babe' would drink liquor at home, but Dick's father wouldn't stand for it. Whenever he was going to be out late, he always called up to let them know at home. Or at least he said he did."

"One funny thing about Dick was the way he used to say, every day

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—The cotton market opened easy today because of a weak Liverpool, the market being apparently influenced by the weaker spot basis in the southern markets. First trades showed losses of 17 to 18 points and October soon traded down to 23.76 and December to 23.90 or 23.40 to 25 points net low. There was a recovery of 12 to 14 points from the initial lows, the steadier tone being influenced to some extent by fears of the hurricane, now east of Porto Rico, reaching the cotton belt.

Cotton futures opened steady.

NEW YORK COTTON

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The cotton opening was easy at a decline of 13 to 27 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables. The market was steadied right after the call by continued covering promoted by doubt as to the present progress of the crop but after selling up from 24.23 to 24.35 October broke to 24.15, active months showing net losses of about 25 to 32 points.

A private crop report making the condition 62.9 with an indicated yield of 12,529,000 bales based on the government estimate of acreage had little effect on the immediate market.

Cotton futures opened easy.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)

Northern Texas and Oklahoma had showers, otherwise weather clear.

Forecast partly cloudy or fair for all cotton states.

North street quiet.

Texas telegrams report great deterioration but also say cotton is being marketed fast and large movement will be on soon.

Some gins working nights.

Journal of commerce special reports Texas returns vary widely. Oklahoma good. Western operators are credited with covering 25,000 bales yesterday. There was upturn covering and covering near close by room traders who sold early.

Deterioration reports was the main reason and the desire to even up on Labor day. It is doubtful if prices can be maintained under the pressure of increased hedge selling. There is much talk of twenty cents.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)

Germany must enact laws in order to make the Dawes and the London agreement effective. There is a lot of opposition there. It is probable that known today or tomorrow whether they will be enacted. Failure to enact is hearish.

European problems have been troubling the world long enough and it is time to get rid of it. I notice the figure published showing car loadings during the third week of August as being the largest weeks loading in the year. This means business; that is what we are interested in now. The leaders of the cars evidently don't know or don't care that Republicans, Democrats or Socialists are now engaged in a struggle for the presidency and this struggle is the only doubtful domestic problem that we have. I think it is the explanation for the absence of important support in the stock market and recent weakness is due more to the absence of this support than to any desire to liquidate. I can't see anything more than a professional market for today and tomorrow.

This seems to be the hottest summer since last year.

GERMAN PRISONER FLEES TO WEB: HE RETURNS TO CELL

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Fritz Linker, serving a sentence for theft, escaped recently and wrote a letter to the jailers saying he was then on his honeymoon and that he would return as soon as the wedding tour was ended.

In three weeks Linker gave himself up.

When he wrote the letter, he said, he had no such intentions, but his wife heard of his promises and insisted, Linker informed the jailers, that he keep his word and go back to prison, and she would be awaiting him again when his time was up.
